A Note from the Pastor

DID YOU KNOW THAT ...

The Catechesis of the Good Shepherd is the result of a long period of careful observation of children by Sofia Cavalletti and her Montessori collaborator, Gianna Gobbi, in Rome.

To speak about the history of the Catechesis of the Good Shepherd is to speak about two women living in Rome, Italy who became friends and collaborators and who devoted their life's work to children. Sofia Cavalletti was a Catholic laywoman and theologian who received a doctorate in Hebrew and Comparative Semitic Languages from La Sapienza University in Rome and who was a biblical scholar. The way CGS began was quite by accident, without warning or planning, the way God so often comes into our lives. Sofia liked to say, "We started without knowing we started."

A mother asked Sofia in 1954 to give some religious instruction to her seven-year-old son and two other boys. At first Sofia refused, saying she knew nothing about children. The mother persisted and Sofia consented. That experience with these children changed her life. She saw in those boys and in numerous other children, in the years that followed, a way of being in the presence of God that is both unique to the child and a gift to the adult who stops long enough to notice. Certainly, her background in Scripture made it possible for her to talk about God with these children in a way that opened and enthused them. Through her studies at the university, she had become accustomed to a rabbinical way of reading Scripture in which everyone is seated with open Bibles as co-listeners to the Word of God.

A mutual friend introduced Sofia to Montessori educator, Gianna Gobbi, who was well acquainted with the young child since she had been with children in the classroom for 15 years. She was also aware of Maria Montessori's religious work and the use of materials designed for children to help them better understand the Catholic liturgy. The first materials that Gianna brought to Sofia were a small model altar and articles used at Mass. Sofia and Gianna noted the joy the children expressed even at their "awkward efforts." It was enough of an impetus for them to continue their work and observation of children in a prepared environment called "the atrium" to better learn of the spiritual nature and religious potential. From that day to the present time, Sofia and Gianna remind us constantly to look to the child for that sign of a deeply religious life – joy – and to always ask the question: "What face of God is the child telling us he or she needs to see?"

Our parish has been utilizing the Catechesis of the Good Shepherd for our children and adults alike. Next Sunday, September 10th, we will have an open house. Parents, I encourage you to please register your children for our Catechesis of the Good Shepherd program for this year.

The 272 tells the story of the Church's history of enslavement in America, while illustrating the consequences, by focusing on generations of one family that had several members among those 272 people sold by the Church in 1838.

Author Rachel L. Swarns, in an interview on NPR, said of her work: "It is certainly a story of heart-break, yes. But it's also a story of family and faith. And it turns out that the Church itself meant a lot to these families. ... That has been really inspiring to me to see how they did that and how they worked to reshape the Church."

Say Their Names

The Say Their Names prayer group meets weekly by Zoom to say the names of and pray for people who have died at the hands of police and vigilante violence. In the St. Patrick Church bulletin, we periodically highlight the stories of a few of the many men and women who lost their God given lives because of racial hatred. Through their stories, we hope to connect with their humanity and lament their loss—our loss.

Our previous article lifted up seven Shelby County souls lost to lynching whose names were erased. Today we remember Luther Billings, lynched in 1905, for whom only a name remains in Shelby County history—his story has been erased. The following eulogy, given by Rev. Dr. K. Andre Brooks, honors Luther Billings. Let us remember Luther Billings, lest We All remain buried.

Lest We Forget Luther Billings

On October 10, 1905, a human life was taken from the chronicles of time.

Robbed of divine purpose by a cowardly pack.

A soul of a Man, anchor of a family, providence of a community, and

The potential of Our Nation has been forgotten.

No remnants of his impact.

No grave, No glory, No gesture of Justice from the body politic...

The Sun continued to rise and set amidst the decaying lifeless body placed in the ground...

A seed crying out for justice refuses to sprout.

The deafening tyranny of terror has hardened the topsoil of Our hearts...

And We All remain buried...

Lifeless, without atonement, reconciliation, and truth of this evil act on someone's beloved family, friend, father and future of Shelby County...

October 10, 1905, A Man Was Lynched.

Lest We Forget...

Luther Billings was a Man.

Luther Billings was an American.

Luther Billings was a Tennessean.

Luther Billings was a Human.

Luther Billings was A Child of God.

Lynched without a marker.

Let US mourn the loss of a piece of Our Own Souls as a Nation and A People.
