Remember the suffering of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and take action to end nuclear weapons

This year marks the 79th anniversary of the first use of nuclear weapons. At 8:15 AM (local time) on August 6, 1945, an atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, Japan. More than 70,000 people died instantly or within hours. On August 9 at 11:02 AM, another atomic bomb was dropped on Nagasaki, killing 60,000 people that day. The majority of casualties were non-combatants, women, men and children of all ages.

In his 2022 pastoral letter on nuclear disarmament, Santa Fe Archbishop John Wester writes about his 2017 visit to the bombing sites: "It was a somber, sobering experience as I realized that on August 6, 1945, humanity crossed the line into the darkness of the nuclear age. We can now kill billions of people instantly and even destroy the world in a flash. The reality of this evil becomes very real as you walk through Hiroshima and Nagasaki today.

"In one exhibit, I read about school children in Hiroshima who, on that fateful morning in August 1945, ran to the windows, attracted by a bright light. I wonder how many were running to their deaths, either instantaneously incinerated or dying later in agonizing pain. Normally, light brings new life and clearer vision. Not that day. Sadly, the light generated by the first nuclear explosion used in war brought only destruction and death."

Prayer of remembrance for Hiroshima (August 6) and Nagasaki (August 9)

Good and gracious God, we pray for a world free of nuclear weapons.
Lift the fog of atomic darkness that hovers so pervasively over the earth.

We pray for world leaders to come to the realization that more weapons and war do not bring peace.

May financial resources be allocated to alleviate poverty, support food security, housing, health care, environment, and educational programs.

Good and gracious God, we pray that the deadly power of nuclear weapons never again be unleashed on people and Your creation.

May such weapons of mass and indiscriminate annihilations be forever banned and eliminated from the face of the earth.

Sunflowers are the symbol of a world free of nuclear weapons.

Good and gracious God, forgive our past silence, give us the courage and strength to tirelessly raise our prophetic voices to work to eliminate weapons of mass destruction.

Let us remember Hiroshima and Nagasaki as beacons as we commit ourselves to find ways to live together in peace, that we may not be just peace lovers, but peacemakers.

*Paper cranes

mination to elimi-

weapons*

In the words of Isaiah:

It shall come to pass that the peoples shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks.

And so, we pray for the time when

"Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore."

Amen, so be it.

Sacristan Workshop

Saturday
Aug. 17
10am-12pm PREPARE
THE FEAST

Just as Mary made sure nothing was lacking from the Feast and handed over its outcome to Jesus, sacristans seek to serve by preparing for the Mass, which foreshadows the Wedding Feast of the Lamb. We prepare the sacred vessels, and take care of the sacristy, providing for the needs of the lay ministers and clergy.

We take the example of Our Lord as our model of service and humility (John 13:12-17). Submitting our prayer and ministry to Jesus, we seek to serve our community as they come together to worship and receive our Eucharistic Lord. We are content to do much of our ministry behind the scenes, knowing that the Lord sees what no one else does.

All are welcome to this learning + fellowship experience. refreshments included!

Reflections From My Weekend For Outreach Ministry Faith Conference for LGBTQ Catholic Ministries

By Beth Trouy

I was asked to share some of my experiences from attending the Outreach Faith Conference for LGBTQ Catholic ministries at Georgetown University last weekend in DC. As the Diocesan coordinator of the Catholic Ministry with Gay and Lesbian Persons (CMGLP), it's an annual event I look forward to each year. Outreach Faith was created by Fr. James Martin several years ago in response to hearing the need for more community building and support for a group often marginalized by the Church.

This year, over 400 people attended from all around the world: Lithuania, Great Britain, Canada; with a blend of priests, nuns, brothers, monks, parents, allies and everything in-between. What strikes me most each year is the warmth, the fellowship and the distinct presence of the Holy Spirit alive in this group who love the Church with such fervor in spite of not always having felt the Church's love in return. One transgender person explained her feelings with, "God is bigger than the Church," and "it's my Church too."

Our weekend opened up with Cardinal Wilton Gregory, archbishop of the Archdiocese of Washington who celebrated Mass with us. In his homily, he quoted the Preamble of the US Constitution, "We the People, in order to form a more perfect Union..." He went on to discuss the tensions we are all feeling in the world today. Tensions that are creating polarization and division among our world, our country and yes, even in our Church today. He stressed the words of "We, the people" us, who, "in order to form a more perfect union" must work together for that unity. He commended the LGBTQ community for its faith and ongoing love of the Church and encouraged us to keep our eyes on Christ. He challenged us to remain hopeful in knowing there are Church leaders who see those in the margins and strive, as Christ has commanded, to welcome them with love. I am so blessed that I feel this love for the marginalized in my St. Patrick's Parish. Many at this conference have no Church that accepts them. Archbishop Gregory said we could be the leaders in our communities to show by example how we can remain unified in spite of our differing views and opinions. He concluded with using the word communion: communion, he said was the binding love we all share as Catholics as one body, united in Christ. It's at communion that we are all one. As I received communion from him, I felt that unity.

The weekend was filled with such encouraging words from many Church leaders. Yes, there were some protestors who prayed the rosary outside the gates of Georgetown as several police stood between them and our group. (I wanted to ask what exactly were they praying for, but I refrained.) We discussed topics such as the bible and homosexuality (taught by Rabbi and New Testament scholar Amy Jill-Levine), transgender Catholics and the Church, parents of LGBTQ persons, Catholic LGBTQ ministries in parishes and higher education, updates from the Vatican hosted by Fr. Martin and a Vatican correspondent. I had the honor of speaking at length with the host of "Preach" the podcast from America Media, Fr. Da Silva (if you've not heard his voice, I suggest you take a quick listen). It was empowering to hear his desire to learn more how priests can give better homilies that give a positive message to the entire congregation. He hosted a live podcast during the weekend which centered on listening to LGBTQ Catholics, parents and allies who had been wounded by some homilies and how priests can do better. (I believe you can view it on the podcast series and if it doesn't get cut, he asked me to comment during the live podcast).

One key note address that stuck with me was from Rev William Hart McNichols who is also an artist and iconographer who shared much of his art work with us. He spoke of the Church's limitations in being inconsistent with her message to marginalized groups. He carefully stated, "the Church however, is not God. Only God is infallible." He gave an image of the Church as a boat that carries us to the shore, which is God. That image is a comfort to me in keeping my utmost focus on God and being patient with the Church who struggles sometimes. I do believe, for me, She is the best ship to carry me closer to God.

I have to say the highlight of the weekend were the prayer services and Masses we had together in Church. Imagine a sanctuary filled from wall to wall with everyone singing from the heart. You could hear the joy, the deep love for the Church in the voices. They were beautiful voices too! (remember the influence of the LGBTQ community to choirs). I left the sanctuary every morning and evening being filled by the Holy Spirit Who certainly was present with us. God is bigger than the Church and the Church is a ship that carries us to the shore of God. We are the people who are tasked with helping form a more perfect union, a communion in fact, to remind us that in spite of our differences, we are one body in Christ. Our great command is to love one another. May that love sustain us in these coming months as our world, our country, our Church strive to meet our divisions with respect, sensitivity and compassion for one another. May we listen with love.
