MISSION STATEMENT

The Mission of St. Patrick Catholic Community is to proclaim and live the Gospel message of unconditional love, healing, and reconciliation, through prayer, celebration, and action on behalf of justice, as a sign of hope for all God's people.

PARISH NEWS

Welcome to Saint Patrick Parish, a Roman Catholic community that gathers day by day, week by week, to be the hands and feet of Jesus Christ. Our close-knit and diverse parish family has been serving our neighborhood since 1866. Young, old, poor, rich, various ethnic origins and differing backgrounds gather to proclaim and live the Gospel message of unconditional love, healing, and reconciliation through prayer, celebration, and action on behalf of justice as a sign of hope for all God's people. From our lively music to our Catechesis of the Good Shepherd formation program; from our commitment to liturgy being truly "the work of the people" to plentiful social outreach opportunities through our St. Patrick-Champion Outreach Center, St. Pat's continues to be a vibrant community of faith that is centered in prayer and action that extends far beyond the walls of our buildings.

Saint Patrick is the third oldest parish in Memphis following St. Mary in The Pinch and St. Peter downtown. Our community was founded to serve the growing number of working-class Irish families in the south Memphis neighborhoods.

Despite sickness and tragedy of the Yellow Fever Epidemics in Memphis, the community continued to grow. In 1904, construction on a new Romanesque church building began. The parish served as a "mother church" to two new parishes, St. Thomas in Soulsville and Immaculate Conception in Central Gardens during this time. To honor our Irish heritage, the co-patrons of Ireland, Saint Patrick and Saint Brigid are featured on either side of the Holy Family in the apse above the Sanctuary. Our pipe organ is the oldest working pipe organ in Memphis. Completed and dedicated in 1905 by the Bishop of Nashville, Right Reverend Thomas S. Byrne, our gathering space stands today as a testament to not only the enduring spirit of our community, but also our charism of accompanying the people of God through the tests of time. The St. Patrick campus resides on the ancestral homeland of the Quapaw Nation.

In 1954, St. Patrick welcomed the Paulist Fathers, who served our community until 2013. Our time with the Paulists during the Civil Rights Movement, drastic changes to our neighborhood, and changes within the Catholic Church at large imbued our community with our famous radical welcome, commitment to justice and solidarity, and a call to action to love God and each other. As a result of the missionary spirit of the Paulist Fathers, many of our traditions such as an empowered laity, the Good Friday Neighborhood Stations of the Cross, Noyze in the Hood caroling, the first LGBTQ Catholic ministry in Memphis, and various outreach ministries that still root us in place and faith began.

Inspired by the Holy Spirit and Vatican II, St. Patrick became a full-time gathering space for the community and worship and not just a space for Sunday obligation. Taking note from the global Church and the Acts of the Apostles, we choose to forego kneeling and commit to the active act of standing shoulder-to-shoulder in communion with God and each other during Mass. Except during the solemn seasons of Advent and Lent, we clap during the Great Amen and hold hands during the "Our Father." We believe Mass is a celebration, Mass is a feast, Mass is a chance to share in the glory of God together actively and with joy. Some of our members still kneel and we encourage everyone to do what connects them with God and makes them comfortable.

We heartily welcome all who come through our doors and are committed to accompanying each other on all journeys of faith.

Dr. Andrea Nichols

by Tracy Burgess

I don't feel nearly qualified to write a reflection on Dr. Andrea Nichols knowing that many more parishioners knew her better and longer than I did. However, she will always be a part of the Burgess family and is one of the main reasons that we continued to come back to St. Patrick's.

The story goes that Gabe, our youngest, used to act up in church when he was probably 6 or 7 years old. One day, he was so upset with Josh and I that he army crawled under 4 pews only to get to the front row of the church and be greeted by Andrea who said "Gabriel, it's so nice to see you. Would you like to sit with me?" He sat next to her for most, if not all of the Mass. It was that day, that we knew we had found our church home.

She taught Jacob, Jonathan, and Jose how to be altar servers and had high expectations of them as young men. Standing in the front pew where other parishioners couldn't see her, she had a gentle way of encouragement as she would signal their next move if they were nervous on the altar. She also spurred Lucy to serve for a while telling her we needed a few more woman on the altar.

Her love and encouragement didn't stop with the kids. She taught me how to be a Sacristan and showed me how to be a better mom. Because of her professional experience in psychology, Josh and I could talk to her about some of our parenting struggles. She would also give me a big hug and tell me, "It's going to be ok baby girl."

In the earliest days, Gabe wasn't ready to be an altar server, so she made up the title of Jr. Sacristan. The first time he was an altar server was with Josh at her funeral.

When I hear a little one who is a little bit louder or more active than their parents would like them to be, I think of her. I always try to show support and find ways to help ease the parents' morning.

When I see a new altar server trying to remember their next steps, I think of her. I encourage them to look to look to Fr. Dexter for support. If you saw me at the end of 8:30 Mass a few weeks ago with Gabe, you know I missed the mark.

When I am meticulously washing and pressing the liturgical linens, I think of her. I'm asking for her prayers to help me find someone who can help Shannon and I with that task.

As I cry writing this entire reflection about her, knowing that I missed yet another Black History month session at church that she would have invited me to, I can feel her hug and her telling me "it will be ok baby girl."

Waffle Shop

MARCH 6 – APRIL 11, 2025
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY
11:00 A.M. - 1:30 P.M.

It's been 97 years since plates were piled up with waffles, chicken hash, and fish pudding at Calvary's first Waffle Shop in Lent of 1928. For all that's changed in our world since then, Memphians still stream to Calvary each year for these three dishes, as well as more "recent" additions such as shrimp mousse, tomato aspic, and Tennessee bourbon pie. Why some of these might not have been on the menu even as long as you've been alive! But Waffle Shop has become the ultimate annual comfort food for many, so we are pleased to let you know that it will be up and running again in 2025!

Dining is offered in person in the Mural Room on a first-come, first-served basis. Groups of 10+ can make reservations in advance by calling 901-525-6602. To-go meals will be offered.

Bringing Lent to Life With CRS Rice Bowl

Fifty years ago, Catholics in Allentown, Pennsylvania, organized to bring help to families facing famine in Africa. That help came in the form of a small cardboard box, marking the beginning of "Operation Rice Bowl." Today, as we celebrate CRS Rice Bowl's 50th anniversary, the program is a tradition for millions of Catholics in the United States who continue to answer the Gospel call, supporting families experiencing hunger around the world.

Through CRS Rice Bowl, faith communities throughout the United States put their faith into action through prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Lenten alms donated through CRS Rice Bowl support the work of CRS in more than 100 different countries, including our own.

CRS has already experienced cuts in services and is expecting more massive cuts — as much as 50% this year — because of the draconian reductions in U.S. foreign assistance ordered by the Trump administration. Please be generous.

Pick up your Rice Bowl today and return it on Holy Thursday.

BLACK CATHOLIC SPIRITUALITY

Mar 12 - Apr 8 ($30)

Explore the Black Catholic Christian experience in the United States. The course moves from the experience of enslaved believers to the current experience of Black Catholics. We find hope in the prophetic voices of US Black Catholics on the road to sainthood, particularly Sr. Thea Bowman. This course aims to bring light to the challenges and prejudices faced by Black Catholics, past and present, as well as the deep faith, prayer, and community that they bring to the global Church.
